

Eagle's View

The newsletter of HPBA

End of 1st
Semester

Prayer and praise

✧ Ladies, here is a great opportunity for you to support our school through prayer: a women's group will meet periodically to pray for HPBA. If you are interested in joining in this vital ministry, please sign up in the school office.

✧ Through the Fall Book Fair, we were able to receive $2400 worth of material for the library. What a blessing! Thanks to all who had a part in making that happen.

It's T-I-M-E...

...for the B-E-E. Fifth through eighth graders will be participating in the school spelling bee Monday, January 28, at 10:30 am. Five to seven students from each grade will be involved. The winners will go on to the

✧ We are privileged to currently have three alumnae with us as part of their college course of study. Katie Eckert (Liberty) and Amanda Shupp (Pensacola) have been with us for a few weeks. Both are helping in elementary classes. Stephanie Takamori (Northland), will also be student teaching for the next two months. She will be an assistant teacher in our English classrooms (English 8, 10 and Honors), and your students will benefit from her stay with us.

Home school/Christian school bee hosted by the Reading Eagle on Friday, Feb. 1 at 10 am here at HP. Winners from that bee will go on to The Berks County round to be held on March 10 at RACC.

Please pray for these young ladies as they work with our classes, and make every effort to meet them before they return to college.

✧ Another blessing and encouragement are the 45 students currently involved in the KCEA academic testing. Parents, please support your children in these endeavors - we are thrilled to have so many willing to participate this year.

Not just for grades

Teachers are now adding more information to Edline. Elementary teachers will post weekly goal sheets, while secondary teachers will list tests and quizzes.

To access this valuable information, log onto Edline, click on your child's name, and then click "Combined Calendar." If you have multiple students at HP, use the drop-down menu at the top of the calendar to quickly switch between your children. Please contact Mr. Mike Windsor (mwindsor@hpbacademy.org) if you have any questions or if you need to activate your Edline account. ■